NOWRUZ

NOWRUZ is a celebration of the spring Equinox. It is deeply rooted in Zoroastrianism, particularly the Creation Myth of the Sasanian era in the 7th century AD. Originally, it celebrated the first seven creations, the earth, sky, water, the first plant, animal, human and fire/sun. The symbols of which are still seen in the ceremonial spread Half Sin. It is celebrated for 13 days, and for modern Iranians, it is a feast of renewal, a time to cherish friendships and family ties, a celebration of life and nature.
